Announcing Vacancies On City Advisory Boards And Commissions

Mayor Lee Lansing and the City Council are seeking applicants to fill volunteer positions on City advisory boards, commissions and committees.

At the end of December, the terms of several members of the City's boards, commissions and committees will expire. Those positions will be filled by appointments and reappointments. There will be openings for new members on the Arts and Culture Commission, Building Code Board of Appeals, Design Advisory Board, Environmental Quality Commission, Grace Whittier Fund Committee, Heritage Preservation Commission, Human Rights Commission, Library Board, Park Board, and Planning Commission/Zoning Board of Appeals.

Over 100 citizen members annually provide valuable leadership to the City through their participation on these groups and special study committees. As the titles of the groups suggest, the members participate in advisory, regulatory, governance and oversight activities in a wide variety of fields. The City Council is committed to appointing citizens who represent diverse qualifications and viewpoints and values the knowledge, collective experience and efforts of these groups.

Applications will be accepted until November 30, 2008. Additional information and applications may be obtained in the Administration Office, City Hall, 801 Washington Street, Northfield, MN 55057, at the Northfield Public Library, by calling 507-645-8833, or on line at www.ci.northfield.mn.us.

The City of Northfield will make reasonable accommodations for access to city services, programs and activities and will make special communication arrangements for persons with disabilities. Please call 507-645-8833 for assistance. TDD users can call 507-645-3030.
